War Time Effective Monday

Enroll Thousands for Civil Defense

The nation's new Daylight Saving effort, known as War Time, becomes effective Monday morning, February 9, and therefore clocks will be advanced one hour before the householder retires Sunday night. There won't be any confusion about this Daylight Saving move, because it is clear across the continent.

2,930 Needed in County for Civil Defense

Only 17 Signed Up; But 3-Day Enrollment Begins Monday, Feb. 9

On the eve of Hempstead county's enrollment of Civilian Defense workers, which enrollment will be held at Hope city hall Monday through Wednesday, February 9-11, the county was informed that a total of at least 2,930 persons are required to man the local Civilian Defense organization.

This figure was given Talbot Field, Jr., county chairman for Civilian Defense, by Major Charles A. Anderson, Field Artillery U. S. Army.

Major Anderson, returning here Saturday for further conferences with local officials, said that 68 persons are required for each thousand of population to man the "protective services." On this basis, Hempstead will require 2,930 workers—and must register several times that number in order to find a fully-qualified personnel, Mr. Field said.

Thus far only 17 persons have enrolled at the city hall office of Civilian Defense.

Major Anderson, whose headquarters are at Omaha, Neb., is regional assistant for the protective services of Civilian Defense, in the Seventh Corps Area.

Where They Are Needed
For Hempstead county, with a population slightly more than 35,000 Major Anderson says the protective services will require the following number of persons in each classification of Civilian Defense:

- Air Raid Wardens—396.
- Auxiliary Firemen—132.
- Auxiliary Police—122.
- Bomb Squad—3.
- Decontamination Squads—66.
- Demolition and Clearance Crews—198.
- Drivers with Cars—165.
- Fire Watchers—660.
- Feeding & Housing—330.
- Medical Personnel—99.
- Messengers—254.
- Nurses Aides—99.
- Rescue Squads—66.
- Road Repair Crews—132.
- Staff—198.

Total of 2,930.
Names of the first 17 to enroll here for Civilian Defense were given Saturday by Chairman Field as follows:

- Oscar G. Andrews, Route 4, Volunteer Auxiliary Fireman.
- Grady William Beard, 821 S. Walnut, Auxiliary Fireman.
- Daniel Arthur Bowden, Auxiliary Fireman.
- Richard P. Bowen, 712 East 3rd St., Auxiliary Policeman.

Swede Report Says Churchill Aiming Thrust

Prime Minister Said to Be Planning Secret Session of Parliament

BERLIN—(AP)—German newspapers carried a lengthy report from Stockholm Saturday that Prime Minister Churchill is laying plans for a large scale landing operation on the Norwegian coast and hopes to have the support of the United States fleet.

The dispatch, circulated by a semi-official German news agency, said the British prime minister was expected to inform the commons of the plan in a secret session soon and the request approval of the hazards of such an undertaking.

It would be on a scale much larger, the dispatch indicated, "than the relatively insignificant undertakings by British Warships against the Norwegian islands in the last few months."

"The German government is ready for any such attempt," a German broadcast of the dispatch declared.

It said there had been opposition in the British prime minister was expanding operation on the grounds it would make enormous demands of British shipping.

The dispatch added that Churchill was convinced of the necessity of the operations in question, even at the risk of losing further large quantities of British shipping.

Japanese Claim Two Allied Ships Hit

TOKYO—(AP)—Japanese imperial headquarters claimed Saturday that a U. S. light cruiser of the Marblehead type and a Dutch East Indies cruiser of the Java class were damaged "beyond repair" in the Japanese naval attack on the United Nations fleet in the Java sea Wednesday.

War Time: Advance Clock Hour Monday

War Time, as proclaimed from Washington by President Roosevelt, becomes effective all over America Monday morning, February 9. All citizens, regardless where they live as to time zone, will advance their clocks one hour before going to bed Sunday night.

There will be no confusion because there will be just one official time. Railroads, busses, radios, mail and airlines will advance their clocks one hour just as the local householder and business man does. War Time is a national order to conserve electricity as much as possible for National Defense purposes.

3rd Draft Date Is February 16

Local Pastors Asked to Announce It From Pulpits

The Rev. Kenneth L. Spore, president of the Hope Ministerial Alliance, made the following announcement Saturday:

"The Local Board, Hempstead County Selective Service System has requested that all Hempstead County pastors announce from their pulpits, Sunday, February 8 and Sunday, February 15, that the Third Registration date is February 16, 1942, as proclaimed by the President of the United States. All men between the ages of twenty and forty-five, who have not already registered, are expected to register on this date. Watch the newspapers for hours and places."

Singapore Guns Beat Off Jap Invasion Try

Suspect It Is Feint to Test Out Flaming 'Death Trap'

By The Associated Press
Singapore's defense guns blasted small invasion-type Japanese boats in the Strait of Johore Saturday, the 8th critical day of siege, while enemy long-range batteries for the first time lobbed shells into the residential district of the beleaguered island city.

The small boat sortie, it was believed, may have been a feint to test out a reported death trap of flaming oil devised by the British.

A Vichy radio broadcast quoting dispatches from Tokyo said the British had poured thousands of gallons of oil into the mile-wide Johore strait intending to set it afire if the Japs attempted to cross.

In the Philippines a War Department bulletin reported Japanese heavy artillery concealed on the southeast shore of Manila bay violently shelled three U. S. forts in the bay but inflicted no material damage. The attack last three hours.

The enemy batteries directed the heaviest bombardment against Fort Drum and also pounded Fort Mills and nearby Fort Hughes.

American gunners answered with blasting volleys "with undetermined results."

In the skies over Gen. Douglas MacArthur's defenders on a Bataan peninsula two U. S. fighter planes battled four Jap bombers and shot down one of them, the War Department said. The communiqué said eight U. S. pursuit planes "attacked by a great superior force of Japanese fighters and bombers" at Bali in the Dutch Indies shot down at least three planes. One U. S. plane was lost. Another was listed as missing.

On Other Fronts
On other fronts of the Far Pacific conflict:

DUTCH INDIES—Countering an assertion by imperial Tokyo headquarters that Japanese naval planes had "virtually annihilated" the Dutch fleet in an attack February 4 in the Java sea NEI headquarters announced crisply:

"The Netherlands fleet is absolutely intact, at sea, and ready for action."

The Dutch high command acknowledged Japanese invasion forces had won control of most of Ambonia island, site of the East Indies second biggest naval base, but reported heavy new blows at Japanese sea power.

A Dutch bulletin said NEI forces had sunk a Japanese cruiser and a transport and hit another cruiser and a submarine in operations off Ambonia, which lies between Celebes island and New Guinea, in the Moluccan sea.

CHINA—Tokyo reports broadcast by the German radio said Japanese troops launched a big offensive Thursday encircling 40,000 Chinese troops in Chantung province.

No details were forthcoming from Singapore itself regarding the supposed flaming oil trap in Johore Strait—an adaptation of the ancient tactics of hurling boiling oil on attackers of castles.

Dispatches from Batavia Friday said the Dutch had planned a similar wall of flame to combat sea-borne Japanese invaders of Balikpapan, Borneo oil port, but that a driving rain storm intervened.

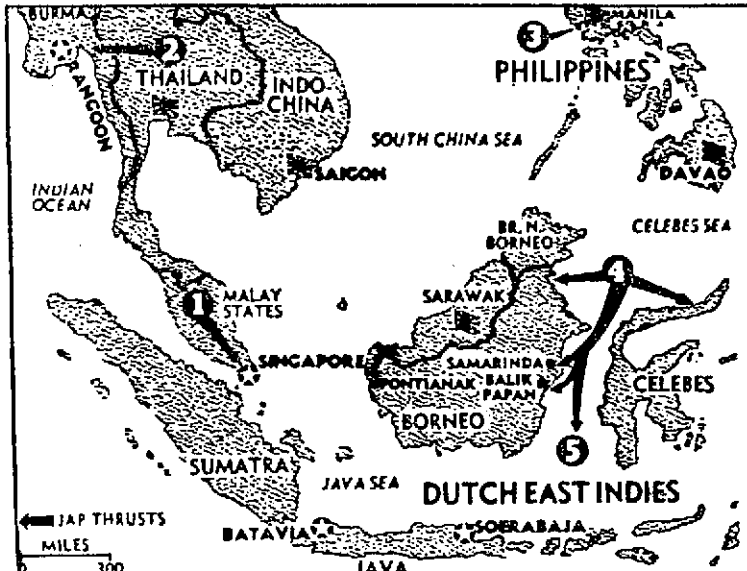

Singapore reported the Japanese were repeatedly bombing and shelling oil storage tanks on the north shore of the island and black smoke was rolling over the waterfront.

As the violence of the siege mounted Lt. Gen. A. E. Percival, the British commander, acknowledged some men, planes, ships and supplies had left the island, but he declared grimly:

"We will hold Singapore. There is no question about it."

The withdrawal, he said, does not mean that the island's defenses have been weakened or that "the air force and navy have abandoned Singapore."

Today' Pacific War Map

Today's war map shows new Jap thrusts at the Dutch East Indies the Japanese siege of Singapore. The big guns of Singapore continued a steady pounding of Japanese forces on the Johore side of the strait, picking targets reported by observers and by reconnoitering British airplanes.

Hospital Aid Is Discussed

Congressman Harris Writes Letter to Weisenberger

The Star has received from Congressman Oren Harris the following copy of a letter he wrote Royce Weisenberger, former state representative, on February 4 regarding the proposed local hospital project and federal aid thereon:

Hon. Royce Weisenberger
Hope, Ark.
Dear Royce:

I am glad to acknowledge your letter in the interest of the application of Hope and Hempstead County Hospital association for the construction of fire-proof hospital to badly needed at this time. The application was received by the Federal Works Agency in Washington from the Regional Office in Kansas City in November.

In discussing this with the Federal Works Agency Board, on several occasions, I find that they have given much study to the local situation brought on by the War program and defense project. Although I have insisted, and they appreciate the intense interest of a project in the sum applied for in the recommendation, the Defense Public Works Division has recommended the outright construction of the Federal Works Agency of a hospital unit to cost $150,000.

The recommendation was sent to the Federal Works Board, who, after going over the report, gives the final order. Except in unusual cases where it is evident the need is not present, the Board accepts the recommendation of the Defense Public Works. This Board meets about every two weeks and the next scheduled meeting is the latter part of this week or the first of next.

This project is first on the list for consideration and I feel confident that the $150,000 will be allotted and the unit approved in that amount in a short time.

Realizing the importance and the need of this project in the rapid development and fast growing city as well as the interest of everyone concerned, I am glad to give my continued efforts to the approval and construction of this hospital unit.

With warm personal regards, I am,
Sincerely yours
Oren Harris

House Debates Fan-Dancing

Congress Bitterly Hits Civilian Defense Moves

WASHINGTON—(AP)—In an upsurge of revolt against appointment of Actor Melvyn Douglas and Mrs. Roosevelt's dancer-protégé to high civilian defense posts, the House voted, 88 to 80, Friday to forbid use of civilian defense funds for "instructions in physical fitness by dancers, fan dancing, street shows, theatrical performances or other public entertainment."

During an angry discussion, Representative Hoffman (Rep., Mich.) suggested a "Bundles for Eleanor" movement be started in tribute to Mrs. Roosevelt's ability to get jobs for her friends. He referred to Marvyn Chaney, dancer, and others.

Equally severe were the representatives in dealing with Donald Duck. By a vote of 78 to 63, the House eliminated an $80,000 allotment to pay the cost of producing a Walt Disney film in which Donald demonstrates the problems—and benefits—of the income tax.

The two actions, both tentative and taken on tenuous votes, came in consideration of a $160,590,611 deficiency appropriations bill containing $11,000,000 for civilian defense. Toward the

All But 3 of Crew Perish in Panama Crash

Collision With Another Vessel in Surface Maneuvers Disclosed

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Navy announced Saturday that the submarine S-26 collided with another naval vessel the night of Jan. 24 and sank off Panama with the loss of all but three of its crew.

The collision occurred, the Navy said, while the submarine was engaged in surface operations.

The survivors, standing on the bridge of the submarine and thrown clear, were Lt. Commander Earl C. Hawk, commanding officer; Lt. Robert E. N. Ward; and Joe B. Hurst, 1st class seaman.

The Navy announced that "the next of kin of the casualties have been notified, but did not disclose the complement of the stricken craft."

Six Navy divers were sent from Washington to help divers already engaged in rescue operations.

Contact was first established with the sunken ship in 301 feet of water five days after the crash sank, but the Navy added, "there was no indication of life on board."

FSA Pushes War Food Campaign

Farmers Co-operating in Vital Food Production

Farm families working with the Farm Security Administration in Hempstead county will add to the war flames under the Axis powers this year as they join with other farmers in the Food-for-Freedom campaign, Laura H. Hodnett, home management supervisor, said.

"Low-income farm families in Hempstead county are going to provide the straw that breaks the back of the Axis powers," she said. "These families cannot do a lot individually, but when they add up the little that each can do, it carries a lot of weight."

"Farm Security families have already been assigned their food and feed quotas. They know approximately how much they are expected to raise for home use and what they can produce for market."

"So far as possible each family will have two milk cows," Mrs. Hodnett said. "We are urging the families to consume as much of the milk as possible and to market the surplus. Each family has planned to produce its meat supply, with some to sell. We estimate that FSA families in Hempstead county will produce approximately 424,000 pounds of pork for the market."

"Fruits and vegetables, syrup and potatoes are important in a well-balanced diet. Farm Security families have planned to produce all they need of these vital, health-producing foods. Each family is planning to preserve a minimum of 125 quarts of food per person. The plan calls for 62 quarts of vegetables and 63 quarts of fruit and fruit juices per person. The families will also store the following foods: dried peas, and beans, meat, lard, and dried fruit. It is estimated that the families will produce a total of 59,500 quarts of food during the year. This will be in addition to the year-round garden."

Wages, Hours and Costs Are Still on Upswing

By HERMAN ALLEN
AP Feature Service Writer

WASHINGTON—How many hours a week do you work now? Forty? Well, then you'll be interested in something a war production official told me.

"By the end of the year," he said, "we may be thinking of the possibility of suspending the 40-hour week. Can't say for sure that it will be done, and in any case we can't convert factories fast enough to make it necessary before that."

After a year of war there probably will be lots of changes in the conditions under which you make your living—whether you work in a factory or on a farm.

"The unions probably will begin to raise a fuss about the rising cost of living," this war production official continued, "and it will rise despite the price control law. We may see a system of bonuses aimed at bringing wages even with prices. This is in effect in some industries in Canada and is a provision in American waterfront workers' contracts, but I question that it will become really widespread by the end of the year."

Emphasis on Training

"A system may very probably be set up to train factory foremen or 'lead' men, and probably the government will start paying youngsters while they are learning a defense industry trade under a program similar to the N.Y.A. There also may be large-scale programs to train women for factory jobs as fast as employment increases and as men are taken into the army. General Hershey, director of the Selective Service System, has already told women they may be called on to fill men's shoes."

This official forecast also that as the months roll by "the honeymoon between labor and management will wear off, and we will have sporadic strikes of some importance, although of course the international unions will outlaw them."

If you're a farmer, you've probably already signed up to help boost the nation's output of dairy products, eggs and pork, the main foods we are exporting under lend-lease. Maybe you're planting soybeans or peanuts or one of the other oil-bearing crops that has suddenly become so important.

There'll Be Some Changes

Whatever you're doing, chances are by the end of the war you'll be doing it differently. There are two big reasons, as an Agriculture Department official explained it to me:

"First, the Army and industry are taking youth away from farms. Agriculture can't compete with factory wages. This means there is danger of a farm labor shortage. It means that more farm work will have to be done by machinery."

"Second, we don't have so much steel to make the machinery. Farm machinery has been allocated 85 per cent of what was used for that purpose in 1941. We have enough for almost unlimited repair parts, but the question is whether we can get enough new equipment to make up for that lack of manpower. We may be called on to exercise some ingenuity."

The Agriculture Department is thankful the soil conservation pro-

The Doyle Home Demonstration club met with Mrs. Clyde Hutson, January 28. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Louie Dowdy. The devotionals were read by Mrs. Mrs. Dora Pierce, prayer by Mrs. J. P. Hutson. There were ten members present and one visitor. We sang "God Bless America." Most of the members had a reading or poem. We discussed chicken raising, and selling eggs or eating them. We decided we should eat more eggs at home.

Miss Harris, assistant home demonstration agent, gave an interesting talk on Food-for-Victory. She also gave a demonstration on making corsage from old felt hats and buttons out of walnuts.

We think we will get some sewing to do for the Red Cross which we will gladly do. Our club date has been changed to the 11th of February. It will be the second Wednesday in each month. Our garden leader, Mrs. Ben Orr, will lead our next meeting. The hostess served fruit salad and cake.

The club will meet with Mrs. Louie Dowdy in February.

The White House of Washington

A Living Personality in Minds of Americans

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—One of the great phenomena of the United States government is the peculiar quality of the White House and the way it fits into the American scheme of things.

For generations, it has almost been a living personality in the minds of the American people, but in recent years it has become a world personality as never before. "The White House says . . . the White House believes . . . the White House reports." And all the world listens.

This is something that transcends the men who have lived there for although President Roosevelt has contributed much to the power and personality of the White House, it had assumed this air of personal entity before he was born.

Washington, Jefferson, Hoban and L'Enfant, the men who planned and located "the mansion or palace of the presidents" as it was always thought of in those days, would be amazed to find that it has become a force in world affairs.

They envisioned it as a quiet retreat where the president might retire from the hurly-burly of politics raging at the other end of Pennsylvania Avenue on Capitol Hill. They saw it as a peaceful dignified home, given over to pleasant living. They counted it as the center of that gay, social life in which they presumed Washington would duplicate the pattern of other great capitals.

When the cornerstone was laid 150 years ago this October, the future of the president's mansion was considered in those terms.

When our John Adams and sharp-tongued Abigail arrived eight years later to find only six rooms sufficed to complete to be habitable and an army of workmen still camped on the ground that sloped down to a vaporous swamp, there still was no thought that the mansion might ever become the pulse of government.

Possibly it was Jefferson who started ed pumping the blood of a living personality into the place. Jefferson was a national figure of only slightly less stature than Washington and his coming to the mansion gave it an aura of tradition as well as political power.

Nevertheless, it was not until the British had sacked Washington and burned the mansion, and Hoban had set about rebuilding it, that it emerged as "The White House."

By that time, the outlines of the central part of the building became pretty much as they are today and it remained only for Andrew Jackson to turn the building around, making the North Portico the front door; and for the long east and west wings to be built to give it its present appearance.

It has a swimming pool in the west wing now and beautiful lawns where the old swamp used to be. Many of its rooms have charm and dignity.

The President has his breakfast in bed and starts the day's work before he is out of his pajamas. He lunches from a steam table in his office, generally in conference.

The dinners are nearly always family or small group affairs, especially on Sunday nights, when Mrs. Roosevelt serves scrambled eggs to a small gathering of intimates.

But these are not the things that make the White House a world personality. Probably much more vital to that growing tradition is the bustling secretarial staff; the scores of weekly conferences with the men who are turning the cogs in our world such as the "White House Conference" and above all those daily utterances which come out of 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue for all the world to weigh an deconider: "The White House says. . ."

Make the Most of Your Flowers

1942 Is a Year for Reviving Such Sentiment

By BETTY CLARKE
Wide World Features Writer

This year's Valentines, sentimental and sweet, are apt to be flowers, perfume or candy because those are the oldtime favorites and nearly everybody agrees this 1942 season of sentiment is one for reviving them.

In fact, the tricks for making much of the hearts and cupid symbols mark a trend toward more sentiment, the florists are saying. This means combs of roses or gardenias in upswipe curls of chic coffitures. It means twin bou-tonnieres for romantic greetings on suit lapels, fresh flowers as neck-laces (a suggestion from the South Seas, perhaps), bracelets, earrings and even brooches.

They're tying orchids and camellias to curls via black velvet ribbons again. In Victorian manner they're putting flowers at the back of the head, where the show and stay out of the way when you're dancing. Always remember to wear a spurgey thing like the orchid corsage here with the plainest of smart suits or frocks. And arrange an artistic but slightly fussy cap as smartly as this in combination not only with a slightly sweet type of frock, but a slightly sweet type of personality.

Lucky is the girl who gets perfume for a Valentine because men frequently appear to be better selectors of fragrance. They like sparkling odors, and not a cloying scent. Bernadine Angus, a student of perfumes, says men like perfume on your hands, and your gloves. She advises you to put your Valentine perfume where air can touch it—as on your hair, veils, the hem of your skirt. "The man who gives you perfume and flowers together nearly always gives you a good tip: Choose fragrances that are the same if you want to be sweet and smart."

gram has been going on since 1932. Productivity of the soil has increased immensely, but it's hard to say just how much. Actual production depends on many factors—the weather, for instance.

One thing, this official said, the farmer can depend on—the department is thinking about what's going to happen to his land after the war, too.

"We don't want another experience like we had in the World War," he explained, smiling sadly at the memory of that hectic time, "when farmers plowed every acre they could—farming bad land and overfarming good land."

"It's unnecessary, and we know how to do it better now."

Clow Enlists in Victory Food Drive

The Clow community unanimously enlisted in the Food-for-Victory campaign conducted by the Agriculture Extension Service.

More than thirty-eight farmers registered their family by filling out their pledge cards in the Food-for-Victory campaign. It is the plan of each farmer to produce more than enough to supply himself for any emergency that may arise.

Further efforts are now being made to see that each farmer in and around Clow community enlist in the Food-for-Victory campaign. The farmers that have not had a chance to enlist in the campaign will see Ira W. Harris, Vocational Agriculture Instructor at once, for it is very important that you do so.

It is my plan before the drive is over to have our community of farmers enlisted one-hundred percent in the Food-for-Victory campaign. It is we believe that we can make America the strongest nation on earth by co-operation in this campaign and other agencies to follow for our national protection.

10th year, Hitler was no longer able to promise his people easy and certain victory, as he had so often done before. No mind remains even in benighted Germany victory is the kind of road that led to Austria, or Czechoslovakia, or Poland, or even to France, Norway, the Low Countries, and Greece. It is quite a different road, and a road which every German must contemplate with horror.

The whole world was willing to see a few small countries despoiled. It swallowed the successive conquests of Manchuria, and Ethiopia, and Austria and Czechoslovakia. The world was patient—too patient, perhaps, but it was patient.

There was an end to its patience, however, when it became clear that there was no end to the rapacity of Germany and Italy and Japan. Now the whole world is fast uniting to insist with all its co-ordinated might that the next decade must be better than the dreadful one.

On Jan. 30, 1933, Hitler, if he should live so long, will have completed his decade. What will have happened then and then will determine whether the next decade shall be one of sunrise or sunset for free and enlightened civilization.

N. L. R. Defeats Hope, 22 to 18

Spurt in Fourth Quarter Wins for North Siders

LITTLE ROCK—In a slow-scoring but active contest, the North Little Rock Wildcats shaded the Hope Bobcats, 22 to 18.

Little Rock and North Little Rock contributed their end of the gate to the Fight Infantile Paralysis campaign, netting the fund $10.65.

North Little Rock was forced to utilize all of its below-par offensive to pull away in the fourth quarter after Hope held a 15-14 margin at the conclusion of the third. Shelby Helmbeck's free toss tied the score in the fourth and, from then on, it was anybody's ball game.

Helmbeck followed it up with a goal but again it was tied when Monroe Rogers sunk one for the Bobcats. Dale Price's free throw made it 18-17 North Side, but Rogers duplicated, making it 18-18. Price's goal enabled Wildcats to attain the 20 mark and Helmbeck's goal accounted for North Little Rock's final two points, they tied ended.

The teams probably set a scoring low in the conference when North Little Rock led, 3 to 2, at the end of the first quarter. Both quintets also were off in the second, the score being 9-6 at the half. Hope was ahead, 15 to 14, at the end of the third quarter.

Denies Rumor His Car Struck Child

J. W. Cunningham, messenger for the Hope postoffice and member of the local fire department, asked The Star Saturday to deny rumor going over the city that he had struck a child with his car while reporting a grass fire on West Seventh street 11:40 Saturday morning.

Mr. Cunningham said the child in question was Ina Jo Barrett, 11, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Barrett, 619 West Third street. He said she and another girl were riding "double" on a bicycle when they had a spill in front of Cook's White Star laundry. About that time Mr. Cunningham parked his car near where the girls fell and joined the other firemen. The fireman said he was being erroneously blamed for injuries sustained in a bicycle fall, and that his car was not near the girl's bicycle at any time. The Barrett child was not believed seriously injured, according to the best information The Star could get on going to press for the early Saturday edition.

House Debates

end of the day, leaders had the whole bill put over until Monday to give administration forces a chance to daily support behind the controversial provisions; all of which are subject to a later roll call vote.

From the Republican and Democratic sides of the House came cries—litter, sarcastic, acrimonious—that the country needed fewer entertainers and more bombers, and parasites and leeches should be stricken from the payroll.

Representative Bennet (Re., Mo.) declared Miss Chaney was "unknown" and "so far as has yet been made public, the only qualification this charming dancer has for her position is that she has named one of her dances "The Eleanor Glide."

"If she is worth $4,000 per year," he declared, "then Sally Rand, strip-tease artist, from my own congressional district down in the Ozarks, ought to be employed at once because she would, on this scale, be worth at least $25,000 per year to the civilian defense."

Reverting to Miss Chaney's development of "The Eleanor glide," the Missourian said "if that is the prime requisite for such an important job, I promise you that I will persuade Sally Rand to name six of her exotic fans Captain Jimmie, Captain Elliott, Lieutenant John, Ensign Franklin, Sistic and Buzzie, respectively."
